

Human Resource Consultancy

As organisations, and the environment they operate in, become more complex, the Human Resource (HR) support required becomes more specialised. Justifying retaining that specialism as an in-house resource can be very challenging.

Combining first class customer service with our extensive experience, knowledge and trusted approach, THE Group has developed a range of Human Resource consultancy services that provide organisations with quick and easy access to high levels of professional expertise. Services cover a wide range of HR specialisms, enabling organisations to deliver a professional HR service within a realistic operational budget.

- Recruitment and role evaluations
- Outplacement support
- HR optimisation and investigations
- Executive coaching
- Interim recruitment and management
- Development of HR policies & procedures
